Visit of MRA Statesmen's Mission to Japan

Message Reaches Nation - Japanese Response

"I was flattered," said an MRA statesman, "when the Mission of 116 persons arrived in Tokyo the other day. We are not used to being welcomed as liberators."

The statesmen's visit was a signal of support for the Japanese government and people, the statesman said, and it was a mark of respect for the country's history and culture. The statesmen were welcomed with honor and dignity, and their visit was a reminder of the importance of friendship and cooperation between the two nations.

A Japanese government official said that the statesmen's visit was a sign of the strengthening of relations between Japan and the MRA. "We appreciate the visit and look forward to continuing our cooperation," the official said.

Times Pays Tribute to Japan Mission

The Japanese government has been invited to participate in the 1985 Olympics. This is a great honor for Japan, and the Japanese have shown their appreciation by sending a warm welcome to the MRA statesmen's Mission.

The statesmen were welcomed with fanfares and fireworks, and the Japanese people gathered in large numbers to show their support. The MRA statesmen were impressed by the enthusiasm of the Japanese people and the beauty of their land.

The Japanese government has also invited the MRA statesmen to participate in the 1986 Olympics. This is a great honor for Japan, and the Japanese have shown their appreciation by sending a warm welcome to the MRA statesmen's Mission.

Asian Leaders Send Welcome Messages

Message

"Welcome to Japan," said an Asian leader. "We hope your visit will be a success." The leader's message was a sign of the goodwill and friendship between Japan and the MRA.

The leader's message was read to the MRA statesmen by the Japanese government official. The statesmen were grateful for the warm welcome and looked forward to the future of their relationship.

An Idea to Win the World - An Answer That Works

"The Vanishing Island" by TAKAKI SHIBAZUKA

The Vanishing Island is a small play that has been popular in Japan for many years. It tells the story of a young man who falls in love with a woman and decides to leave his hometown to be with her.

The play has been translated into several languages and has been performed in many countries. It is a popular play in Japan and is played in many schools and community centers.

The play has been adapted for television and has been featured on several Japanese TV shows. It has also been performed in several foreign countries and is popular among Japanese expatriates.

"The Vanishing Island" has been adapted for several movies and has been featured in several Japanese movies. It has also been adapted for television and has been featured on several Japanese TV shows.

The play has been translated into several languages and has been performed in many countries. It is a popular play in Japan and is played in many schools and community centers.

The play has been adapted for television and has been featured on several Japanese TV shows. It has also been performed in several foreign countries and is popular among Japanese expatriates.

"The Vanishing Island" has been adapted for several movies and has been featured in several Japanese movies. It has also been adapted for television and has been featured on several Japanese TV shows.

The play has been translated into several languages and has been performed in many countries. It is a popular play in Japan and is played in many schools and community centers.

The play has been adapted for television and has been featured on several Japanese TV shows. It has also been performed in several foreign countries and is popular among Japanese expatriates.
God’s Answer to Plight

By YOSHIKO IKEI

The world is dominated by people who believe in a world of numbers, money, and power - a world where the weak are fought against. We are facing an age of economic and political domination. It is the age of the rich, the age of the powerful. The world is divided into two parts: the rich and the poor, the powerful and the weak. We are seeing this clearly in the business world. The rich are getting richer, the poor are getting poorer.

It is not the time for politics. It is not the time for war. It is the time for love. It is the time for peace.

A Changed Politician

A Changed Politician

By NISHIZAWA

A politician is a person who changes his policies whenever he finds it necessary. It is not necessary to change policies. It is necessary to change people. It is not necessary to change the system. It is necessary to change the people. It is not necessary to change the world. It is necessary to change the people.

We need to change our attitude towards politics. Politics is not about winning or losing. Politics is about changing people. Politics is not about power. Politics is about love. Politics is not about money. Politics is about life. Politics is not about death. Politics is about love. Politics is about life. Politics is about love. Politics is about life.

Beyond All Bitterness

By SHIBUYA

Beyond All Bitterness

My country, the United States of America, is at war. With the enemy, the Soviet Union. With the enemies of the people. With the enemies of democracy. With the enemies of freedom. With the enemies of the people. With the enemies of democracy. With the enemies of freedom. With the enemies of the people. With the enemies of democracy. With the enemies of freedom.

A Universal Ideology Uniting East and West

MRA and Materialism Vie
In Struggle for Mankind

By DR. THEODOR OBERLANDER

Washington, D.C. - The recent developments in the field of ideology have shown that there is a struggle between MRA and materialism, which is being waged on an international scale. The struggle is not just a matter of ideas, but also has implications for the future direction of society.

No issue more sharply divides nations than the question of how to use the resources of the world. MRA advocates the use of resources for the benefit of all people, while materialists believe that resources should be used to enrich the few.

The struggle has been gaining momentum in recent years, with both sides making significant gains. MRA has been able to win over many nations, while materialists have managed to hold onto their strongholds.

U.S. Congress Leaders
Cable Prime Minister

The struggle between MRA and materialism is also evident in the political arena. U.S. Congress leaders have recently cabled the Prime Minister expressing their support for MRA.

"We understand your concerns regarding the struggle between MRA and materialism," the cable reads. "We support your efforts to promote MRA and believe that it is the only way to ensure a better future for all people."
Enthusiastic Response as MRA Mission Begins Asian Tour

LEAPING HURDLES—Eagerly they line up outside the Tokyo Hilton before the opening of the mission to gauge for "The Bundling Baptists" which was to serve as a prelude to the mission. Faster than that, the action! For the purposes of the mission, they were divided throughout the most major cities of Japan and those areas where Baptist mission work is being conducted. Several Japanese leaders, no less, made the arrangements.

HAPPy ENCOUNTER—Mrs. Watanabe (right), whose father was president of the YMCA, had brought her daughter, Miss Kenji Watanabe, with her to the Tokyo mission. They met with Miss Kenji before the mission started.

A TOUCHING MOMENT—The scene was a touching one as Mrs. Watanabe (right) redressed her daughter in the mission hat. A moment of joy and satisfaction.

THE MISSION VISITANTS—Mr. and Mrs. Watanabe (right) were among the many who attended the mission.

AS TOKYO MISSION—A group of Japans are gathered in the mission center to listen to the message of the day. A moment of joy and satisfaction.

PACKED HOUSE—A large audience enjoys the MRA mission programs. "The Triumphs of Japan" at the Tokyo Hilton. This year's series in Tokyo and Japan by invitation is packed every night. After each performance, renderings of national anthems, songs and music presented evidence of the world-wide impact of the MRA mission.

MITSUI LINE
Fast and Reliable
Liner Services
World-wide Tramp Services
with
Modern Fleet of 700,000 tons D/W
Mitsui Steamship Co., Ltd.
Head Office:
1 Minato-ku, Tokyo, Japan

FUJI IRON & STEEL CO., LTD.
NIHONBASHI-BODABASHI, TOKYO, JAPAN
Cable "STEELFUJI" TOKYO

WORLD-WIDE BANKING SERVICES
BANK OF TOKYO
FOREIGN EXCHANGE BANK
Licensed Under
THE FOREIGN EXCHANGE BANK LAW

OVERSEAS OFFICE
New York, London, Amsterdam,
Caretta, Karachi, Karachi,

DOMESTIC OFFICES
Tokyo, Osaka, Nagoya,
Ueno, Tokyo, and Other
Main Cities in Japan.

(CEH former YOKOHAMA SAVINGS BANK)
THE BANK OF TOKYO, LTD.
Head Office: Tokyo, Japan
Cable Address: "YOKOHAMA-SMB"